BOYKIN AND WILLIAMSON'S COMEDY MAKES HIT AT THE BOOKER WASHINGTON

A continuous stream of comedy, mixed with good music and dancing, is the offering of Boykin and Williamson's "Delegates from Oz" Comedy at The Booker Washington Theatre this week. The show starts with the usual chorus opening. Arthur Boykin has a number "They Were Marching" and then "The Woman Hater's Tation," a rip roaring comedy, presented by Boykin, Gleno Harris, Marguerite Lester and Naomi Tallifer. Miss Lillian Carroll sings "Aching Hearted Blues," supported by the Company, and Pearl Madison renders "Nobody Lied."

Boykin and Anna Williamson, as a team are a source of much fun and melody with plenty of dancing. Their song numbers are "Just Like a Rainbow in the Sky," "In Dear Old Tennessee," and "Haval Garden Blues," presented in an instrumental imitation. Robert Perry does a good luck dance, and Miss Lester sings and dances "The Book of the Day." The closing piece is an army burlesque, entitled "The Last Shot," and keeps the audience screaming with laughter. "Everybody's Blues" is the finale.

VAUDEVILLE NEXT WEEK

Four all-star acts of vaudeville will be shown at The Booker Washington Theatre next week. These will consist of the Jack Wagner Trio, featuring "Gimme, Jack," the champion long distance back dancer; Walter Brothers, dramatic; Johnson and Smith, a comic team; and Happy Ferguson, a humorous monologist. Monday will be "Pay Day" for the patrons.

GONZELL WHITE'S JAZZERS
AT THE GAYETY NEXT WEEK

Miss Gonzell White, St. Louis' favorite singing and dancing entertainer, will be at the Gaiety Theatre for one week beginning Sunday with her Jazzers, consisting of 14 all star colored performers. Another favorite here, Ed Langford, is in the company. The Jazz act is a part of the big show of "Jimmie Cooper and His Beauty Revue." There are 44 people, including a big chorus. Matinee at 2:30 and night shows, 8:15, daily.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

AT THE COMET

Thomas Meighan will be seen at The Comet Theatre this Saturday in "If You Believe It, It's So." The story of a young city crook who finds peace and happiness in the country is delightfully told by a cast of players which includes, in addition to the star, Theodore Roberts, Pauline Starke, Joseph J. Dowling and Charles Ogle.

Jack Holt will be presented in "While Satan Sleeps" on Sunday. Holt has the role of a crook who goes to Faustmiller described as a minister to clean it up. The story is the story of a bishop and it is in this roadside inn where the crook ultimately wins the battle that he wages for his soul. He wins, assisted by the very crook he has been fighting. How could he win here? Well, it is because he gains his love that he has won it in the first place. How should he go about it? In his rough, in his Mr. Crookman, of "Handle With Care."

Norma Talmadge will be featured in "Smilin' Through," next Thursday and Friday. The production deals with the romance of a beautiful young Kathleen, who is left in the grip of a villain (Robert) following the death of her Aunt Mary. Mary was fatally wounded by a jealous nation on the day of her wedding to Robert. When Robert learns that Kathleen is in love with the son of the man who killed his bride he seizes the opportunity to win the girl and the shocking plot follows its dramatic momentum.

AT THE STAR

Grace Darmond in "Handle With Care" will be the Star Theatre feature this Saturday. It is a satirical comedy-drama and deserves a new angle on the marriage tangle. Dick Hatton in "The Golden Flame" will be the Sunday special attraction. His role that of a youth of the West today, wherein lunkheads and puffed streets have supplanted the ranch boys and the unfettered lands of an earlier generation. "Handle With Care" will be the Sunday special attraction. His role that of a youth of the West today, wherein lunkheads and puffed streets have supplanted the ranch boys and the unfettered lands of an earlier generation.

Lillian Gish and Wallace Reid in "The Fatal Marriage" will be the Sunday special attraction. The story is a satirical comedy-drama and deserves a new angle on the marriage tangle. Dick Hatton in "The Golden Flame" will be the Sunday special attraction. His role that of a youth of the West today, wherein lunkheads and puffed streets have supplanted the ranch boys and the unfettered lands of an earlier generation.

On Thursday and Friday, Harry Carey will be presented in "Man to Man." It recognizes the struggles of a young man who finds his way from the degradation of a South Sea desert back to his home in the West. It is a story which would have been written by Joe Carey. It provided him with the hero of a role which he has made famous on the screen.

THE JESTER

Joseph Phillips will be presented in "Harrison's Men" at the Jester Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. It is a story of a man who finds his way from the degradation of a South Sea desert back to his home in the West. It is a story which would have been written by Joe Carey. It provided him with the hero of a role which he has made famous on the screen.
